

College of Fellows 2026 Call for Nominations

The Association for Preservation Technology College of Fellows seeks nominations for our 2026 Class. The College of Fellows was established in 1992 with the induction of the Founders of the Association as the inaugural Class. There are currently 90 members in the College of Fellows. The Board of Directors and the College are planning to induct the next Class of Fellows during the APT Annual Conference in Indianapolis, IN, in October 2026.

The overarching charge of APT's College of Fellows is two-fold: 1) advising the Board on issues regarding advancement of the philosophy and practice of preservation technology, and 2) honoring those members who have provided valuable service to APT. Elevation to the College of Fellows is the highest honor bestowed by APT upon its members.

A jury of five – comprising three College of Fellows members, one APT Board member, and one APT member-at-large appointed by the President and Board – will evaluate all nominations and elect new Fellows. The jury makes decisions solely on materials provided in the nominations. Each Lead Nominator should guide their candidate to make certain that the nomination fully represents their qualifications meeting the requirements specified below.
