

Protecting and Responding: Contemporary Documentation of Cultural Heritage

Save the Date:

Saturday, September 21st

8:00 am - 4:30 pm

Presented by the APT Technical Committee on Documentation and the APT Rocky Mountain Chapter

Join the Rocky Mountain Chapter of APT for an engaging one-day documentation workshop at the CU Denver College of Architecture and Planning, situated near historic Larimer Square. Experts will present on the use of laser scanning, drones, and non-destructive evaluation methods to assess and preserve historic structures. We'll explore contemporary tools and techniques through the lens of natural disasters. This event offers a valuable opportunity for professionals and students to learn about cutting-edge technologies and network with peers in the field.

Workshop features a full day agenda with expert presentations and dynamic group discussions
*8 LU/HSW/PDH CEUs

Location:

University of Colorado-Denver
College of Architecture and Planning
1250 14th St
Denver, CO 80202

Sponsorship opportunities are available.
Contact us for details rockymountainapt@gmail.com

Dana Crawford Preservation Program
COLLEGE OF ARCHITECTURE AND PLANNING
UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO DENVER

